FORTUNE WAS REFUSED

Poor Woman Who Refused Large Sum of Money.

London, April 29.—A strange bequest of $250,000 to the Painters' Company, a city guild, is recalled by the death of an old lady, Miss Brooke, who, at the age of 75, though earning but a small sum weekly, by mantle-making, refused over $100,000. The $250,000 was left to the company some years ago by Mr. W. D. Barnett of Addie Street, London, a leading member. The bequest came as a surprise, for Mr. Barnett was a man of frugal tastes and simple life, and no one associated him with great wealth. The money was bequeathed on condition that the company celebrate his birthday "forever" by a dinner to the liverymen and maintained his tomb "forever." The Chancery Court however, held that this perpetual bequest was invalid and that the one should go to Mr. Barnett's heirs. A search was made for them, under the direction of Mr. T. H. Pritchard, clerk for the company, and one of them was discovered to be the elderly mantle-maker. She was offered her share, over $100,000, but refused to take it. "The money was intended for the company," she said. She gave up her share for $20 a week and the $100,000 was handed over to the company. "We learned the middle of last week that Miss Brooke had died," said Mr. Pritchard, "and the money becomes absolutely the property of the company." The dinner—the second of the series to go on "forever"—in memory of Mr. W. D. Barnett, takes place on May 6. The cost of the dinner is about $300. The remainder of the income of the legacy is devoted to the various good purposes to which the funds of the company are put.

CAPE BRETON STRIKE ENDED AT LAST

Miners Say They Will Center Efforts on Struggle in British Columbia.

Halifax, April 29.—The longest strike in the history of the coal miners' troubles in Cape Breton, that began early in July last, has been ended. Asked about the settlement of the labor troubles, a prominent labor man stated last night that a reason which he thought the United Mine Workers were anxious to get out of the fight now was that they were entering upon a strike in Frank, Alberta, and neighborhood, where they needed their capital to assist in fighting the operators in British Columbia, believing that the fight in Cape Breton was a hopeless one, and the officials decided to advise the men to call off the fight here. General Manager Butler, in answer to a question as to the accuracy of the report of the settlement of the strike, stated that he knew nothing whatever about it, except what he had read in the papers. There had been no conference with a committee of the men since the meeting last month. The formal conditions upon which the men would be taken back were then published.

BANK'S BUSINESS PROBED

Loans Approved by Former President Are in Evidence at Trial.

New York, April 29.—The trial of F. Augustus Heinze settled down yesterday to putting on the record facts and figures regarding various loans approved by the defendant while he was president of the Mercantile National Bank. The government charges Heinze with misapplying the bank's funds and over certification in an effort to promote speculation in United Copper stock through his brother's firm Otto C. Heinze & Co. Emil Klein, cashier of the bank who testified on Wednesday, as to loans to Otto Heinze & Co and others on United Copper and American Ice collateral, which the government claims were insufficient, resumed the stand yesterday. One of the loans was shown to have been made to Frederick Eckstein, a clerk in the employ of Heinze & Co.

HINDUS ARE NOW OUT FOR RIGHT TO VOTE

Every Possible Influence Will Be Brought into Play.

LAUNCH NEW TEST CASE

Educated Indian Once Turned Back Will Try to Land Again—New Features of Their Position.

That every possible influence will be brought to bear by the Hindus in British Columbia to secure for themselves from the Government of Canada the full and untrammelled rights of British subjects is the statement made by the local leaders of the movement, which was inaugurated last Sunday in the appointment of delegates to carry their wishes to the foot of the throne. Just how strong the Hindus consider their case and what they mean when they demand "all the rights of British subjects," may be judged by the stand taken by one of their local leaders today.

"Do we seek the privilege of the franchise? Why, certainly. There are two main points in the battle we are now commencing. One is for the right to proceed without any restrictions from any one part of the British Empire to any other part, and the other is our right to enjoy every privilege enjoyed by any other Britisher in whatever portion of the empire we choose to settle."

That is the gauntlet thrown down to the Federal authorities at Ottawa and the struggle is to be fought to the end in the Imperial lists, with the lawgivers of the Empire as judges.

Already their delegates are on the way to London to fire the first gun in Downing street and at St. Stephens, and within the next few days another local skirmish will commence in the courts of Vancouver.

Yesterday Naranja Singh, an educated Hindu capitalist, and owner of real estate in this city, was refused a landing on Canadian soil when he sought to enter the Dominion from the Seattle boat, his exclusion being effected under the immigration regulation which requires the newcomer to arrive by direct ticket from the land of his birth or citizenship. But Naranja Singh is coming again and tomorrow he will step or attempt to step from the Seattle boat in a second effort to land in British Columbia. The Hindus anticipate that he will be stopped again and they have all preparations made for another, and more strenuous, legal battle than the one which took place over the Natarham case, by the decision in which the Hindu was deported across the Pacific.

While this fresh test is being made the battle is to be carried on actively elsewhere and to make arrangements for further efforts to attain the goal of their ambitions, the Hindus will gather again next Sunday. At this meeting native spokesmen with English educations will be appointed to interview Attorney-General Bowser to secure his views on their case and, if possible, they will enlist the Provincial cabinet member on their side as a pleader of their cause at Ottawa and in London.

How far-reaching is the movement and what force is going to be brought to bear on the powers interested to secure its success is revealed by another significant statement that was made today by one of the prominent natives of India in the city. Before the end of the summer, he says, native members of the vice-regal council of India will be in British Columbia to secure full and detailed statistics on the points involved, after which they will carry the plea of their countrymen on this side of the water to the heart of the Empire for presentation before the authorities there.

Only statesmen actively engaged in public life will be enlisted in the fight and the entire movement will be carried through without any appeal to native princes of India. Therefore, taking this view, the Hindus on this coast attach no political significance to the approaching visit of the Garko, the Hindu prince, who, though he will receive a hearty welcome from his countrymen as a compliment to himself and the exalted position he holds, will not be asked to take any stand on the subjects which are now being brought to issue.
