Dear Sir:

I have finally succeeded in securing permission for you to stay in Canada. I wired you the good news this morning.

The Minister has issued a Permit for you to stay for one year with the right "to extensions from time to time as the circumstances may warrant". This is the official way of saying that you can stay indefinitely. I am very pleased at this accomplishment in view of the very severe attitude adopted towards you at the beginning of my negotiations.

This has been an important matter and called for the full use of my intimate knowledge and connection and I would ask you therefore to recognise my services and award me a fee of $500. Kindly remit me this amount and oblige.

Yours faithfully,

W. W. B. McInnes
