Sir,

I have been able to secure a little more of interesting information regarding Kumar and Dase.

With respect to Kumar I beg to state that on the 21st inst. he appeared before a Board of Inquiry at the C.I. Immigration Office here and applied for admission to Canada. After a long sitting the Board composed of four of Council decided to admit Kumar and he accordingly, after having received sanction, left Vancouver on Monday the 20th inst.

Today I am informed that some persons at Vancouver intended to carry in this city a vessel about fitted to sail for or from Seattle. I am unable at the present moment to confirm this information, but have asked the U.S. Consular Service at Seattle to let me know as soon as possible the date, steaming and port of destination, if they leave on any boat from that port.

With respect to Dase, I am informed from a reliable source that he has been trying to ferry persons in connection with securing his naturalization papers, for which he made application some years back. In connection the matter of Dase (the narrative now was connected with the C.I. Immigration Service) with the Inspector in charge here, I am told that Dase would not be able
