To The Immigration Agent,
Vancouver, B.C.
Ed. - P. 14

Sir,

I have the honour to inform you that today when I was going to take the signature of your officer D. Singh, for the letter to me, he refused to take off the cap, containing other signatures, without giving the signature. Of course, he would have signed, but I did not intend to give over the book. On this account he took the cap and took it off into the place, and was happy to see, because there were all signatures of the officers in the book.

Signatures of our ship are present at that time in the book, and in others.

Your officer's idea about the letter, is that we, in very serious.

There were, no cap containing being in a good trouble, even we could not have seen and such that of your officer's assistant against the, of course, was not.

I further request you that you say, Mr. D. Singh, that the fact is that the passport is signed by D. Singh and me, which was signed by D. Singh and me.

The all passport was quite possible. If your officer will see the state of affairs, you will be well satisfied.

Yours truly,
Daljit Singh.
Daljit Singh.
Daljit Singh.
