

[Letter from Mr. and Mrs. Urabe to Mayo Singh]

December 11/19

Dear Mayo:

We trust that this letter finds you all in good health. We are both doing well despite the sudden cold winter we are experiencing.

We are also very grateful for your kindness and exceptional hospitality extended to Shigeko and her husband during their honeymoon on Vancouver Island. Shigeko has expressed to us how happy she was and how she had a memorable time. She will not forget the kindness for taking them to Nanaimo on their departure day of which I was very pleased to hear. We again thank you for all you have done for them. I know they will not forget all that.

You have mentioned about us having here. At the present time I am supervising construction of lumber sheds and making a lot of work. As soon as winter work is full force, I will much be staying here till spring. In the meantime, a good portion of the work here may be completed and will allow me to take my hands off. You will, I am sure, quite understand my present position for not giving a definite time of our intended departure from here but as
